

Investing to improve Manchester's water supply

You'll be pleased to know that we have nearly finished our major project to replace much of the Victorian water mains in Manchester that have served the city for over 100 years. It's been a huge job that's been ongoing since 2007.

We know everyone hates roadworks and delays and we're really sorry for the disruption we're causing, but the work does need to be done as the pipes are coming to the end of their natural life. Once we're finished, there will be even better water quality and fewer leaks for the businesses and homes in Manchester for generations to come.

On 1st June 2010 we will begin work in the junction of Portland Street, Newton Street & Piccadilly for approximately seven weeks. This is the last major piece of work we need to carry out in the city but in order to complete this work we have no alternative other than to close the road at this junction. We are aware that this is a major junction in the city and we will do our best to complete the works as soon as possible

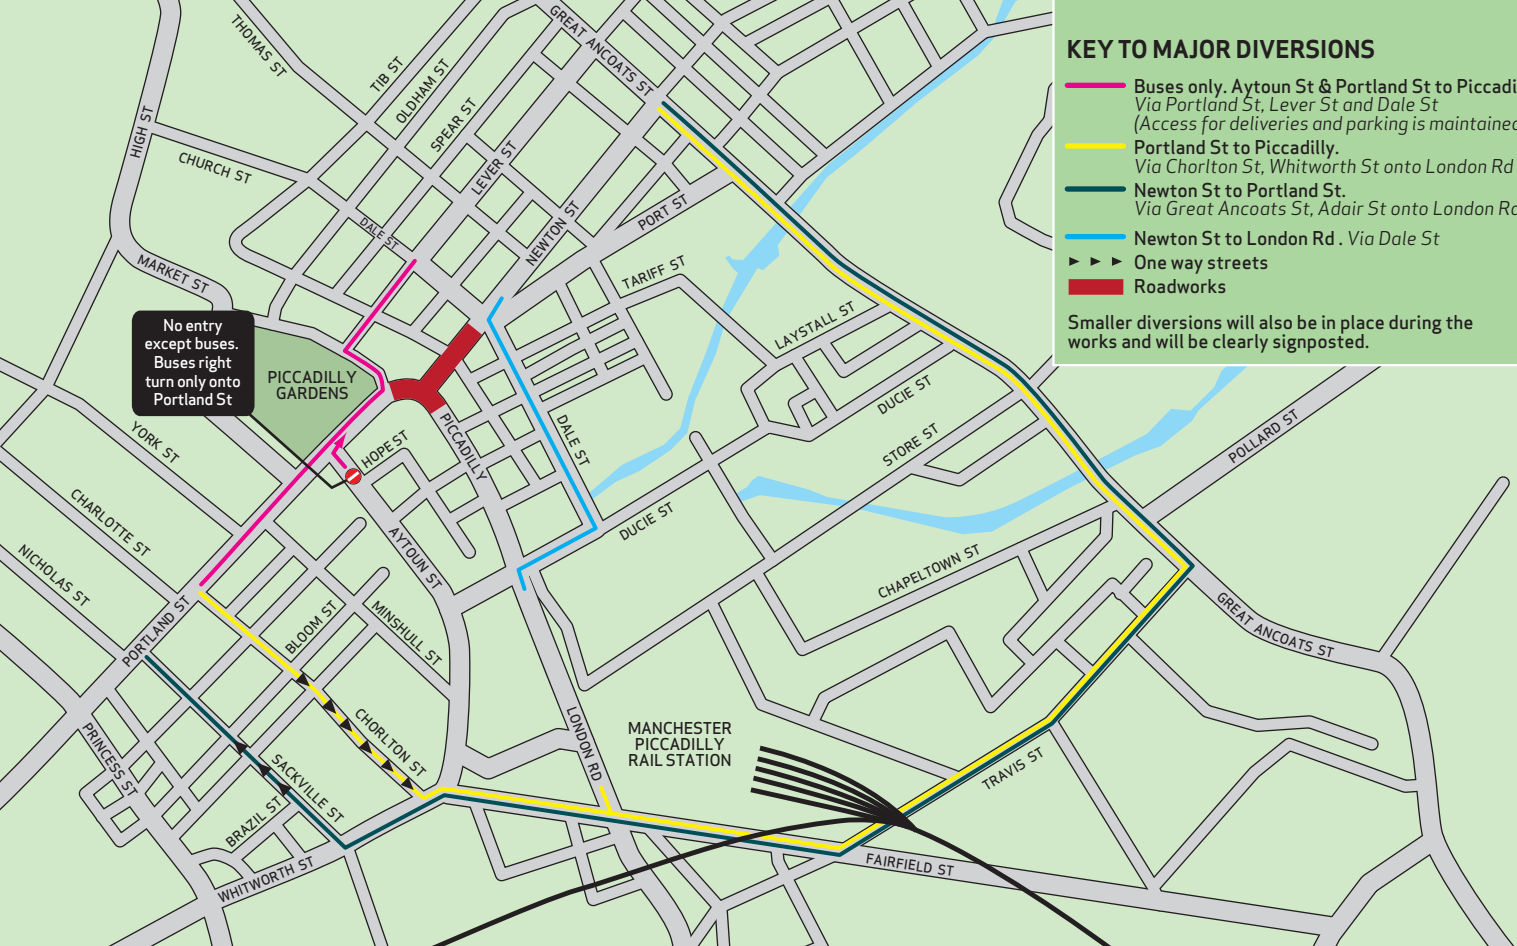

- we will be working extended hours 7 days a week to do so.

There will be a number of diversions in place and these will all be clearly signposted. The major diversions will be in place as set out on the other side of this leaflet.

We would like to thank you for your continued patience and support over the last three years - we know at times it's been pain - and apologise for any inconvenience or disruption that it has caused.

If you need any further help or information please phone us on 0845 746 2200, quoting project number 90013948.
